Excerpt from A Genealogy of the Descendants of Benjamin Keith Through Timothy, Son of Rev. James Keith: Together With an Historical Sketch of the Early Family and Personal Reminiscences of Recent Generations

It is a general truth, that advancing years bring with them a desire to know more of our origin and ancestry, and the kindred desire to preserve and perpetuate both our own and the memory of those gone before. The family Bible has been the work of reference which supplemented the era of traditional history and dated the three eras of family life. But this is at present a neglected source of information and a cause for regret that so many utterly neglect to record these three important events. I have, therefore, endeavored to afford our namesakes of the present generation a place and opportunity to continue and preserve these important and interesting items, by leaving sufficient space to each family, which can be easily and readily filled, as occasion requires. The personal experience, reminiscence, locality and environment (history quite as interesting as the dated fact of births, marriages and deaths) cannot be supplied from this source; this can only be rescued by the local historian.
